Among the master bedroom's artworks are pieces by Richard Prince (left) and Lee Ufan (center); the headboard, nightstands, and TV cabinet are all by Atelier Pierre Bonnefille, and the carpet is by Tai Ping.
