

The Buzz —6-29-2021

Welcome to The Buzz, a biweekly roundup of design world news and inspiration for Design Miami's discerning community of creatives and collectors. Enjoy!

Photography by Béatrice de Géa
June 29, 2021

Egg by Paula Hayes, 2010. Photo © Béatrice de Géa; courtesy of Cristina Grajales Gallery |
Untitled by Saraï Delfendahl, 2019. Photo © Galerie Scene Ouverte

Ridiculous Sublime at SFA Advisory

SFA Advisory, Lisa Schiff's Tribeca outpost, just opened its inaugural summer selling exhibition, Ridiculous Sublime. Featuring 50 international artists and designers, the exhibition brings together a variety of works that depict the natural world as mystical, ominous, and sublime. Galleries that contributed works include Caterina Tognon, Cristina Grajales, David Zwirner, Friedman Benda, Jason Jacques, Marianne Boesky, Patrick Parrish, Nina Johnson, Scene Ouverte, Simard Bilodeau, Wilding Cran Gallery, and more.

“There is only one step from the sublime to the ridiculous.” —Napoleon Bonaparte

“Bonaparte's Ridiculous Sublime as quoted above is the most apt way to categorize our current human condition.” —Lisa Schiff, SFA Advisory